

Max Armstrong

Max Armstrong is one of the most highly-regarded and widely-followed agriculture journalists in America. For more than 40 years his broadcasts have been viewed and heard by millions of farmers, ranchers and consumers across the country.

The recipient of numerous honors from trade associations and farm organizations, Max has originated broadcasts from every state in America and from more than 30 different nations.

An honored alum of Purdue University, Max is a native of Indiana, having grown up on a grain and livestock farm in the southern part of the state.

With long-time partner Orion Samuelson, Max is host of This Week In AgriBusiness on television, as well as Farm Progress America and Max Armstrong's Midwest Digest on radio. He also continues as a weekend voice on Chicago radio powerhouse WGN, where he has been heard on agriculture broadcasts every week since 1977.

Max is also a past president of the National Association of Farm Broadcasting.
